Work has commenced on the excava-tion for the foundation of the statue of Commodiare John Harry. "The father of the American may," to be placed in Franklin Park.

The design is the work of John J. Booke, a New York sculptor, who per-pondily was selected by the Congressional commission, to prepare a model to meet the widnes of the various organizations directly interested in perpetuating the memory of the Revolutionary naval com-missible.

memory of the Revolutionary naval com-missible.

Before its acceptance the Boyte work was modified in certain architectural festitires to meet the criticisms passed to on it by the National Commission of Fine Arts, after which it formally was approx 1 by that body and then by the congressional commission, It also re-ceived the approval of a special com-mittee of artists. That committee con-cisted of Faul J. Bartlett, Walter Cook, and Whitney Warren.

The Boyte design is the second design nilopted, the first being that of Andrew Cylonner of Paris, which originally was approved by the cummission as the result of an open competition by Irish-American stricts. The O'Connor design was viscoussily opposed by promi-

Plays Are Produced.

Deploring what he declared to be a fendency to lower the morals of the stage, and arging the necessity of Catholics taking victorous and organized action in matters pertaining to religious, moral, and civic welfare, the Rev. Engene A. Hannan, rector of St. Martin's Church, who list week was so highly honored at the hands of the Pops, list night addressed the members of St. Martin's Holy Name Society, at a meeting held in the parechal hall.

"When a theatrical syndicate," said Pather Hannan, "sends to our city a needuction that is immoral and offensive, an individual protest from a crey Catholic should be sent to the responsible parties, in addition to the protests that should be made by organizations. Because a cosmopolitan city like New York supports a ringue then and women of Washington, the standard of morality assays high,"

Father finnan ured upon the Holy Name men the need of asserting themselves to a greater extent in public life. He landed the members of St. Martin's society for endeavoring to improve

Camp Ordway, Harpers Ferry, W. Va. Ordway today. The influx begar he arrival of the first special trait o'clock and continued until aft-

The camp presented an even more immaculate appearance than it has during the past week. Early in the morning the solders could be seen hovering about picking up papers and removing ell refuse, making the place spic and span.

From tent to tent the visitors went. Everything was as orderly and satisfactory as the most fastidious might expect. Packages "from home" were received by many of the "boys." None of the visitors were held up by the guards for the usual marching.

Today was a memorable one to the meldiers not only uccause of the number of visitors that were present, but for the superior "eating" served them. Early in the morning hundreds of chickens were cooking in the cooks' tents. After a week on food that was somewhat less luxurious, the guardsmen gave an excellent exhibition in their attack on this choice food.

Many of the visitors partock of the same rations, while others brought lunch basilets and ate-beneath the trees.

Charges.

Judge Hen Lindsey, who was made famous by his Juvenile Court in Denver, will speak at a meeting to be heid Sunday, August II, in this city, At the meeting, which was alranged yesterday and will be under the auspices of the National Women's Voters' League, Judge Lindsey will answer charges made against his court by political opponents. The place for the meeting has not heen decided.

In his address, Judge Lindsey will submit affidavits to disprove the criticism of his court, which, it is claimed, was instigated by a political ring which he exposed in his story of graft in Colorado, entitled "The Beast and the Jungle."

Judge Lindsey refused yesterday to discuss the charges, except to say that he would answer them in his speech here. He spent yesterday with friends in this city. Most of the time he spent in conference with members of Congress of progressive tendency.

Judge Lindsey will leave Washington

About 125 years ago, before Washington was more than a haterial using dream, members of the Society of Jesus pushed their way, depite "blatacles of Indians and beats," and old account has said, and "planted the first seed of Catholicity in this part of the New World."

Their choice of a location for Holy Trimity Church, then without a name was peculiarly fortunate. Trimity is one of the few older churches of the city that has retained the uppearance of age and accompanying dignity. Its grounds occupy nearly the entire ideck to dissed by N. O. Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-fifth Streets, in Georgetown. It is inclosed by a fence of high iron pickets, and follows the colonial style of architecture.

For many Years after the founding of Trimity Church, the fathers struggled along without a building. Then, in I'M, the first pastor, Father Francis J. Nesle, R. TO MEMORY OF PIEST FARMER. Celebration Planned to Commem rate Pioneer in Western Canada.

Melford, Sask, Aug. 2.—Western Canada is to honor the memory of Capt. Louis Liu de la Corne, the first farmer of Western Canada. Chevaller La Corne introduced culture in the Carrot River Valley, Saskatchewan, in 1734. At Melford, in the heart of the Carrot River district, a three-day celebration, August 1, 2, and 2, 1914, will commemorate the 186th anniversary of the first farming in Western Canada.

The business men of Melford and the surrounding territory have organized to arrange for the celebration, and committees are already at work. The celebration will be unusual and will include a pageant, in which 2,000 Indians will participate. This pageant will typity the agricultural growth of Western Canada, from the days before Chevaller Corne explored the Carrot River Valley to the present time.

The Jones-Works excise law and its damaging influence on German societies and their Sunday business again was brought up for discussion at the monthly meeting of the Arion Gesangverein at its clubhouse last night, August Schmidt presiding.

After a debate which embraced every conceivable proposition or measure which might result in the repeal or the modification of the law and its stringent application, it was unanimously resolved to submit the whole question to the biennial meeting of the National German-American Allance, which is to convene at St. Louis in October, with the request that this body adopt a res-every effort to modify or repeal the law.

John Weber was elected as the Arion's candidate for delegate of the United German Societies of this city to the St. Louis convention. It was urged upon the members to use every effort in other moderate to endorse Weber's candidacy and to oppose the election of a delegate who might be an employe of the government on the ground that he would be prevented from acting freely and for the best interests of the society. The United Singers, under the presidency of John Waldman, held a meeting at Sacingerbund hall and adopted a resolution requesting the Northeastern Sacribution requesting the Northeastern Section in the Northwestern section of the United Singers, and singing societies in the Northwestern section of the United States, to memorialize their respective representations that the Jones-Works excise law be either modified or altosether repealed.
